September, 2025
A Letter from Pastor Hansen

Prior to becoming a pastor, I think I went to the Adult Sunday School class at First Presbyterian Church of Pendleton, Oregon, once – and that was to give a presentation. But I did go to a weekly men’s breakfast at a local restaurant, that liked to call itself “The Men’s Tuesday Morning B.S. Group” which could stand for bible study or book study or something else entirely. I am not going to say that the books we studied were great (some of them were not) but what I came to really appreciate and the reason I kept going was the community I found in this weekly gathering. Yes, we gathered to learn about God, but in doing so we learned about each other and from each other.

We live in a world in which there is a growing sense of isolation and loneliness. Depending on one’s television, internet, and social media habits, we are, on the surface at least, connected in ways that boggle the mind. At the same time, as connected as we may seem, much of that connection is no longer in person. I am not saying that telephone calls, FaceTiming, video calls, and other forms of communication are a bad thing. They are not. In fact, they make life easier. It is wonderful to be able to talk to and video conference with people on the other side of the country. But there is also something about community formed in the week-in, week-out of in-person gatherings.

That group of men (and sometimes my daughter, Eliana, if I had to take her to school that day) would have had much different connections had we not met in-person in the back of a small restaurant around 6 a.m. or so every Tuesday morning. My understanding of the community Kate and I were living in, working in, and raising a family in would have been much more shallow and far less colorful. I would not have heard the stories of Mick, who started the local school bus company. I would not have heard the stories of Wes, who flew fighter jets in Vietnam, and who ended up running the local farmer’s grain co-op. I would not have heard Hugh’s stories, or Pete’s stories, or Dale’s. My life would have been much less rich, and my life would have been much more isolated. In the end, the men’s group was more than a “book study,” it was community. It was a form of church.

As we come into the fall, the men’s bible study will meet Thursdays at noon and will study John Bunyan’s “Pilgrim’s Progress.” The Wednesday noon bible study is starting a study titled “Never Beyond Hope.” The Adult Sunday School class, which meets after worship in the fall and the spring, will be studying the Gospel of Mark this fall. I would be remiss in not mentioning Sunday School classes for pre-K through high school or other youth activities. These too are places where we find community. I hope you will consider joining us as we gather to learn about God and learn about each other and what it means to be in a community of faith.

Warmly in Christ,

Pastor Evan

Children & Youth Ministry

Children and Youth Ministry September 2025

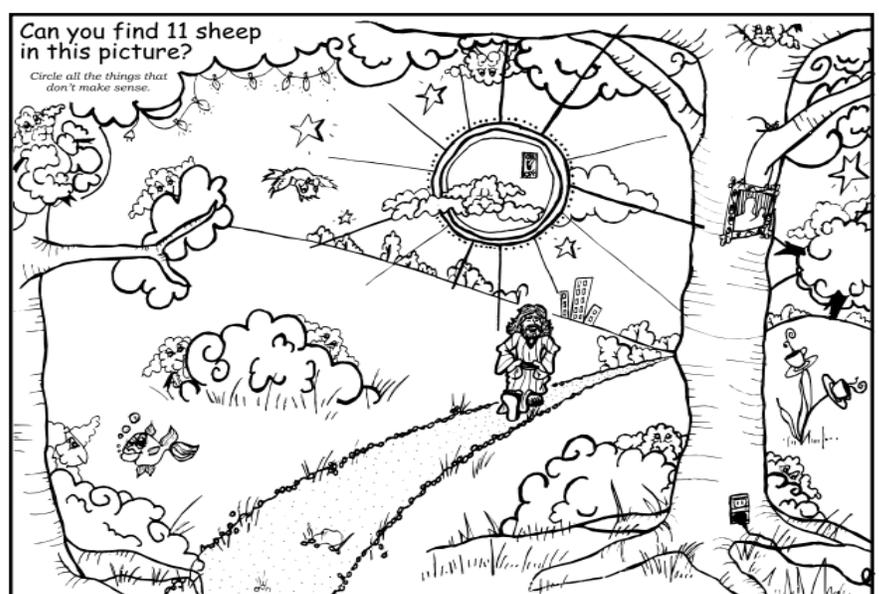

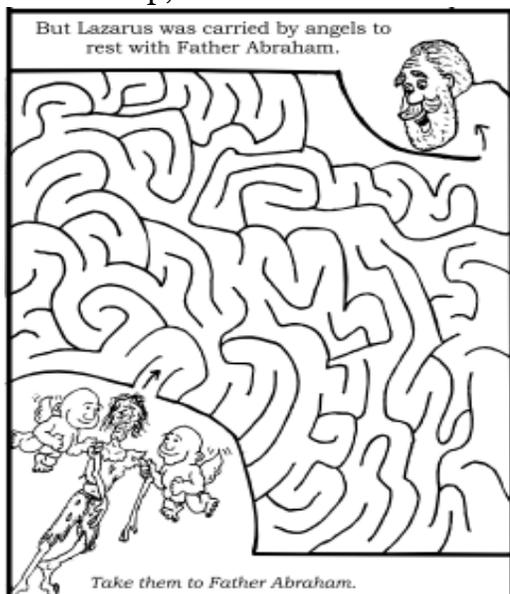

I hope everyone has had a wonderful summer! Now the weather is getting a tad cooler and soon the leaves will begin to turn. As we move into Fall, Sunday school and youth group begin again, along with our music program. I'm so proud to say that two of our youth are joining the Praise Band. Annalyse Ferriter and Alexii Hoskins-Thomas are moving up from the Good News Singers and we've had the pleasure of hearing them both sing this summer.

The Children and Youth committee has a full calendar. Please remember to have your kids, young and older, and anyone else who would like to have their backpacks blessed, bring their backpacks on Rally Day, Sept. 7th. This is also the first day of Sunday school for both kids and adults. We are planning a little welcome back party with games and bagels and donuts for all the kiddos that day. We are also working with First Presbyterian Church on a few fun outings for the youth group. We're hoping to do a corn maze and hay ride in early October and Trunk or Treat for Halloween. We've also picked a date for the Harvest Dinner, which we hope will be Saturday, November 8th. Our older youth will also be participating in a Confirmation class, with dates yet to be announced.

As you can see, we have a busy schedule ahead of us but, oh, what a wonderful feeling it is to be planning all of these events for our growing youth program! We have a good number of kids in the program but, with scouts and athletic events and dance competitions, it's hard to get them all together at once. But, we're working hard at it. Enjoy the crisp air and beautiful colors as Fall approaches and, if anyone would like to volunteer to help with the youth program, please don't hesitate to get ahold of me, Allie Sevey or Liz Wilson. Any and all help is appreciated!!!

Blessings in Christ,

Deb Stamp, Dir. of Children and Youth Min.

2025 Youth Triennium

Youth were asked to worship on Wednesday in their pajamas.

The steelpan band from Susamachar Presbyterina Church let youth and info worship on Tuesday

Presbyterian Youth Triennium participants created keychains and bracelets to help describe what they needed from the church.

Triennium young adults walk with their T-shirts in a hallway of the Kentucky International Conference Center in Louisville.

Young adults make T-shirts honoring gun violence victims during the Young Adult Leadership community group.

Where else but Presbyterian Youth Triennium will you find a soccer game played between youth clothed in rocket costumes?

During the Presbyterian Youth Triennium, Luke Nancoo and Jade Fuentes wrote on bags that were to be used to make snack bags for underserved people in Louisville for a group called Hope Buss. A mission project on Wednesday also included hygiene kits for Presbyterian Disaster Assistance and packages for Room in the Inn.

Thursday's closing worship at the Presbyterian Youth Triennium featured the imposition of glitter ashes.

All profits from dinner and donations go directly to Camp Whitman, and will be matched up to $15,000 by anonymous donors.
